Drastic Proposals to Keep Down Cost of Living Studied

Sales Tax, Forced Bond Buying, Exemptions Cut are Considered

Washington, May 8—(AP)—A host of new and drastic proposals to keep down the cost of living emerged today on the heels of a sudden decision by the treasury to ask congress for a cut in personal income tax exemptions.

High administration sources said that since one of the purposes of the anti-inflation program was to "soak up" excess purchasing power that might be used to bid up prices, consideration had been given to such ideas as a federal retail sales tax (in addition to all other tax increases), doubled social security taxes, and compulsory purchases of war bonds.

These steps were advocated privately by some influential administration leaders before President Roosevelt sent his "cost of living" message to congress last week. The president did not mention these items, but promised further legislative recommendations, "if necessary."

Reverses Stand

That promise started to take shape yesterday when Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, reversing a previous stand, asked the house ways and means committee to cut personal exemptions. He suggested that the income exemption for a single person be cut from $750 to $600, for a family head from $1,500 to $1,200, for a dependent from $400 to $300. The secretary estimated that this plan would add $1,100,000,000 to the $7,600,000,000 annual revenue expected from other recent tax proposals.

Morgenthau's new proposal took committee members completely by surprise and few were willing to predict even privately what the result would be.

One sales tax proponent said, "this assures a sales tax" because congress would not dip so deeply into individual income. Another committee member said the recom-

Bulkeley Says U. S. Can Win With Couple Hundred Torpedo Boats

New York, May 8—(AP)—Lieut. John D. Bulkeley, whose torpedo boat exploits in the Philippines etched some of the brightest pages in recent naval history, came home from the war today and opined that "with a couple of hundred torpedo boats we could sweep the Japs from the sea."

Waiting for Bulkeley at the airport was his wife, "the happiest woman in the world", and waiting at his home in Long Island City was John Duncan Bulkeley, Jr., whom his father had never seen—the child was born April 3—and Joan, 19 months old.

Lieut. Bulkeley piloted the torpedo boat on which General Douglas MacArthur left Corregidor for a rendezvous with a bomber which eventually landed the general and his party in Australia.

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
(Telegraph Special Service)

The great naval battle which is being fought between allied and Japanese fleets across the Coral Sea east of Australia is still too young for us to judge of its possible effects, but we can see the fundamental strategy which precipitated it—that is to nullify the effectiveness of Australia as a United Nations base and thereby protect Nippon's conquests in Indonesia.

At this writing the American, British and Australian units already are reported to have sunk or damaged thirteen Jap warships and three other Jap ships in this five-day-old conflict. As against this Tokyo claims the sinking of five United Nations vessels, including a United States battleship and two of our aircraft carriers, the Saratoga and the Yorktown.

Australian Prime Minister Curtin today declared that this engagement is of crucial importance to the whole conduct of the war in the southwest Pacific. That seems like a fair statement of the position, for while we do not know the size of the fleets involved, it may easily be that they are large enough so that domination of the Pacific may be bound up in the issue. That is to say, should either side suffer a disastrous defeat, it might mean the passing of naval control to the other.

It seems doubtful to me that the Japanese were bent on whole-sale invasion of Australia. The probabilities are that they have been aiming (1) at the cutting of American communications with Australia so as to prevent our delivery of supplies and troops, and (2) at the possible occupation of some strategic points on the north coast of Australia, or at least rendering the positions impotent. These operations would tend to nullify Australia's striking power against the Japanese left flank in the southwest Pacific and permit the Nipponese to consolidate their widespread conquests.

Of course a Japanese victory in the sea-battle now waging might bring about a complete change in Japanese tactics. They might be encouraged to undertake operations which up to this juncture haven't been feasible, including a major invasion of Australia.

However, prior to the opening of this battle of the Coral Sea the

SFESOCOM Sends Plea

Walla Walla, Wash., May 8—(AP)—The society for eliminating the stranglehold of Convention on Mankind, has solicited President Roosevelt's support for its first official act.

The organization submitted this unanimously endorsed resolution: "Elimination of necktie wearing in the summer would save wool, cotton, silk and rayon, and ties thus made useless could be reclaimed."

Search for Yellow Cat Threatens Destruction of Tamm's Domicile

Indianapolis, May 8—(AP)—They were tearing down Otto E. Tamm's house bit by bit with his consent today to find the cat that's been waiting for ten days, but Tamm vowed he'd soon call a halt while there still was a roof over his head.

A week ago Wednesday at 2 a. m. Tamm was sound asleep in his bungalow in a quiet neighborhood where he's lived for 30 years. Suddenly came a hideous cry like something out of an Edgar Allan Poe tale. Tamm awoke and he's had little sleep since.

The house was haunted by a cat, he decided, and he was convinced it was a yellow tabby a neighbor reported missing.

Tamm figured it had fallen down a chimney and must be in the furnace. So he hired a furnace man. In six days the workman dismantled the furnace and reassembled it. He got $50 off Tamm but Tamm got no cat.

Names of Dead and Captured in Orient May Be Long Coming

Many Who Fell on Bataan and Corregidor May Be Listed "Missing"

Washington, May 8—(AP)—The long Japanese delay in reporting the names of American prisoners taken in the early stages of the war suggested today that months may elapse before those captured or killed in the Philippines will be known.

Many who fell in the heroic defense of Corregidor and Bataan may be permanently listed as missing. For weeks the war department has been obliged to respond to thousands of inquiries from families of officers and men by saying that no information was available.

Undersecretary Robert P. Patterson said "this anxiety is easy to understand" and assured that any information as to casualties or prisoners would be telegraphed immediately to the next of kin.

Of the more than 50,000 American and Filipino troops and naval and marine corps personnel estimated to have been captured, met death or suffered wounds, specific

Registration Shows Population Growth

With returns from the several schools throughout the county where the registration for war ration books has been in progress for four days and which closed last evening, Chairman Slothower of the county rationing board announced today that 28,427 applications were filed in the county and 25,593 ration books issued.

The final day of registration was the smallest of the four, the several districts reporting 2,206 applications filed and 2,016 ration cards issued. A total of 129 schools in the county have filed their reports and 35 had not filed, early today, but some of the latter group of registration places were reported to have closed.

The registration, according to Chairman Slothower, indicated a marked increase in the population of Dixon over the last government census in 1940.

At the three registration centers, the Lincoln, South Central and North Central schools, a total of 12,275 applications were filed. At the Loveland school west of Dixon the total registration was 934. The city registration did not include the Dixon state hospital, or the heavily populated area east of the city in the neighborhood of the Medusa cement plant.

Philippines President Arrived in U. S. Today

After resting here, Quezon will proceed to Washington, to meet President Roosevelt.

Quezon, his family and his staff found haven in Australia as the Japs were hammering at Philippine defenses.

See Little Chances of Real Resistance on Madagascar Isle

London Hears Surrender Terms Included All Forces on Island

(By The Associated Press)
London heard unconfirmed reports today that the surrender terms at Diego Suarez, captured Thursday night by the British after a 48-hour attack, included a "cease fire" order for all French forces on Madagascar island.

More than half the estimated 15,000 French colonial troops on the island were reported in defense of the big Diego Suarez base, which would mean that there was little chance of real resistance elsewhere on the 1,000-mile-long island.

Madagascar, lying off the coast of southeast Africa, commands allied sea routes to the Middle East, India and China.

The British offered to repatriate any Frenchmen on Madagascar who "did not wish to cooperate with the United Nations" and pledged restoration of the island to France simultaneously with the first landing on Madagascar Tuesday, a British foreign office commentator announced.

Further Landings Likely
The first British landing resulted in capture of the strategic Diego Suarez naval base Thursday morning, but a military commentator said further landings would be necessary to obtain such vital strategic points as the Tuléar air base if French resistance continued.

Prior to the British attack, the French declared they were able to mobilize 15,000 soldiers on the island.

A Vichy news broadcast, however, estimated the total French defense force as 7,000 men.

Reds Strike Heavily

In the Russian campaign Adolf Hitler's field headquarters acknowledged that the red armies were striking heavily against German lines in the Ukraine, on the Staraya Russa front 130 miles south of Leningrad, and along the Volkhov river about 60 miles below Leningrad.

A German communiqué said the soviet attacks had been repulsed in all three sectors, reported nazi planes had set great fires raging in Leningrad, and declared that 1,400 Russian soldiers had been killed in two days of fighting in Finnish Lapland.

Soviet dispatches said German warplanes were pressing a futile

Car Abandoned After Wild Ride Into Field

Deputy Sheriff L. E. Bates, after investigating an abandoned car left in a field near the Hill corner on state route 2 about four miles east of Dixon some time Thursday night, ordered the machine removed to a local garage. The car bore license plates issued to Raymond Klapper, Fox River Grove, Ill.

The machine in rounding the curve and proceeding toward Grand Detour left the paving, proceeding toward Grand Detour left the paving, proceeded across a ditch and embankment, then tore down 14 fence posts and wrenched wire fencing, coming to a stop in the field. The driver apparently was uninjured and after locking the machine, left the scene. The front end of the car was considerably damaged.

Photographer Snaps Shot of Death Leap of Woman in Buffalo

Buffalo, N. Y., May 8—(AP)—An efficient young photographer's trained curiosity gave Associated Press newspapers through the country one of the most dramatic pictures of the year—a woman falling to her death from a hotel window.

Returning to his office from a routine assignment, 30-year-old I. Russell Sorgi, of the Courier-Express, heard screaming sirens, followed a speeding police car and ambulance through downtown streets yesterday to the Genesee hotel.

There he found a small crowd gathered, a woman on an eighth-floor window ledge.

Quickly, Sorgi made two shots as she clung to the ledge, then put a fresh holder into his speed graphic camera. The crowd screamed. Sorgi looked—and snapped a picture at 1,000th of a second, catching the woman's plunge.

With the speed of The Associated Press wirephoto, the dramatic shot reached far corners of the country.

London Paper Hears U. S. Troops in Madagascar

London, May 8—(AP)—The Daily Mail published today a dispatch from Madrid which said that "according to reports from Vichy," the source of which was undisclosed, United States and South African troops "are pouring into Diego Suarez," the Madagascar base just taken over by the British.

A NEW FIGHTING FRONT!

A new fighting front is being opened right here in Dixon against the enemies of this Christian nation. The words of Abraham Lincoln were never more true than they are right now. "The only assurance of our safety as a nation is to lay our foundation as our fathers did in morality and religion". Today is the opening day of the week's campaign to raise a fund for the operation of the Christian Education courses in the Dixon public schools beginning next fall. The expenses of conducting one fall-to-spring term in all the fourth, fifth and sixth grades on Christian fundamentals will amount to $2,500.

In a world forced to spend billions in the prosecution of an unwanted war with dictators who have thrown practical Christianity out the window, we should be eager and willing to help build up the comparatively small fund of only $2,500. When we realize that such a fund will be devoted entirely to one principle which is positively opposed to pagan and inhuman doctrines, there should be an influx of contributions from far-sighted Dixon citizens such as never before!

All expenses of these proposed courses will be paid by popular subscription. No part of it will be borne by the school board. The instructor will be on a par, academically and financially, with other grade school teachers. Enrollment, although 100 per cent voluntary, is expected to include a large majority of the five-hundred or more pupils in the three grades. All campaign work, with the possible exception of necessary clerical help, is voluntary and gratis. Here is your chance to take a practical part in opening up a really new front in this war—give, and give generously, when the solicitor calls on you!

Harman Has His Day in Court; Later Is Served With a Writ

Robert Harman of this city was assessed a fine of $25 and costs by Justice Fremont Kaufman late yesterday on a charge of disturbing the peace. He was arrested about midnight Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff L. E. Bates who was summoned to the Brown Shingle road house west of the city on the Lincoln Highway, where Harman was reported to have created a general disturbance.

Judge George C. Dixon last evening granted a petition for an injunction restraining Harman from entering the residence of his wife, Lorraine, or from encumbering or disposing of her automobile, until the disposition of the separate maintenance action which she filed in the Circuit court late yesterday afternoon. The couple were married at Los Angeles, Cal., May 25, 1936, and in her petition, Mrs. Harman seeks the custody of a minor child.

Army Ignorant of Surrender Terms

Washington, May 8—(AP)—Unofficial enemy reports indicated today that the Japanese were using every means of cleaning up scattered resistance in the Philippines.

A war department communiqué last night quoted these reports to the effect that the Japanese demanded the surrender of scattered American and Filipino forces under threat of resuming bombardment of Corregidor.

"The war department has been unofficially informed through a broadcast from the Japanese-controlled Manila radio station of what are purported to be the terms of capitulation arranged after the fall of Corregidor", the communiqué said.

"As a condition precedent to the cessation of attacks on the island forts, the Japanese are said to have insisted upon the immediate surrender of the scattered American and Filipino troops operating on the various islands of the archipelago. In order to avoid further unnecessary sacrifices, General Wainwright is reported to have reluctantly acceded to these terms and to have broadcast appropriate orders to his field commanders."

"The war department has received no official information on the subject and has no knowledge of whether or not the reported conditions have been met."

Battle Represents Deliberate Decision of Warring Leaders

Probably Result of Inter- ception of South- Bound Jap Convoy

London, May 8—(AP)—Naval and military experts agreed tonight that the great sea battle raging off the Solomon islands was the beginning of the battle for Australia and that the result would have a tremendous bearing on the whole course of the war.

The immediate objective of the Japanese warships appeared to be to sever the commonwealth's lifeline to the United States.

The naval battle was one of the few great sea clashes in which Great Britain did not have a leading role. The Admiralty's denial that the Warspite or any other British battleship had been sunk or damaged appeared to bear out what already was assumed in London—that few if any major British fleet units were operating in the area with the United States forces.

London naval observers declared today that from the information at hand the battle off Australia apparently resulted from interception of a Japanese invasion convoy bound from Rabaul or the Solomon islands south to the New Hebrides or New Caledonia.

One source expressed belief that the present battle represented a final judgment and much deliberation on both sides.

Move Anticipated

"The Japanese recently have been building up naval strength at Rabaul", he said. There is no doubt that the allied command, with daily reconnaissance reports at hand, anticipated the Japanese strength and move.

"It can be assumed that, demonstrating a first-class offensive spirit, the Americans have tried to intercept and destroy a Japanese force."

Short Vacation Is Being Considered by Congress Today

Washington, May 8—(AP)—The "indefinitely postponed" sign was hung or proposed labor and farm price legislation today as leaders studied the possibility of letting congress take a short summer vacation, beginning about July 1, while a senate committee puts the finishing touches on the new tax bill.

The seventy-seventh congress has been in almost continuous session since it convened on January 3, 1941 and some legislators with elections coming up this year—which includes all of the members of the house and more than one-third of the senate—have expressed the desire privately to get home and look into the condition of their political affairs.

Revival Unlikely

With this in mind, leaders were said to have checked off the possibility of immediate action on controversial proposals to curb organized labor's privileges in wartime or on President Roosevelt's suggestion that price control ceilings on farm prices be lowered.

Advocates of restrictive labor legislation conceded that the collapse of recent efforts to bring such measures before congress meant that nothing was likely to be done to revive these bills for weeks or possibly months. Informal canvasses were said to have convinced administration lieutenants they lacked sufficient votes to overcome the farm bloc's opposition to the president's proposal to make parity the top for agricultural prices.

Thus enactment of the new $7-610,000,000 tax bill seemed to be the chief order of business, aside from passage of regular appropriations measures and speedy consideration of any additional military money bills that might be proposed by the president.

Biggest Encounter Since Jutland Being Fought in Coral Sea

Outcome in Doubt Today At Least 13 Jap Ships Sunk or Damaged

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Allied and Japanese warships fought to the death today in a mammoth five-day-old battle in the Coral Sea, northeast of Australia, in which American, British and Australian gunners have already sunk or crippled at least 13 enemy warships.

United Nations headquarters announced that nine Japanese warships were sunk, including an aircraft carrier, two cruisers, two destroyers and four gunboats. Four other enemy warships, a non-combat vessel was sunk, and others were damaged.

The fateful struggle, still raging, appeared by all accounts to be the greatest naval battle of the new World War.

It was also the biggest naval engagement in all American history and perhaps rivaled in magnitude the historic battle of Jutland on May 31, 1916, between the British and German grand fleets.

Imperial Tokyo headquarters claimed a toll of five United Nations warships, including the sinking of a U. S. battleship of the 32,600-ton California class, the 33,000-ton U. S. aircraft carrier Saratoga and the 19,900-ton U. S. aircraft carrier Yorktown.

In addition, Tokyo asserted, a British battleship of the 30,600-ton Warspite type was heavily damaged, perhaps sunk, and an Australian cruiser of the 10,000-ton Canberra type was damaged and may have gone down.

London Makes Denial

In London, the Admiralty quickly denied that the Warspite or any other British battleship had been sunk or damaged in the Coral Sea.

One of the basis of the Japanese claim—which completely lacked confirmation from any allied source—appeared that at least a portion of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz's main Pacific fleet, stationed at Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, was engaged in the battle.

If so, this was the first news that the United States' great Pacific squadron had set out to challenge the Japanese fleet.

Silence in both Washington and Australia, after the initial announcement, shrouded the progress of the fight. President Roosevelt cancelled his morning press conference and the war and navy departments announced there would be no morning communiques. The words of Prime Minister Curtin in Australia, that loss of the battle would not decide the war, were open to two interpretations—that he was warning his country of the possibility of a greater fight against an invader, or that he was preparing the ground for later announcement of bad news.

Japs May Be Recouping

For the week, the allies had a preponderance of victorious claims, but for the period since their defeat of Monday the Japanese made claims of successes which, if true, might mean they had brought up great additional strength and, in the later stages of the battle, were recouping.

The Japanese claim of three capital ships sunk, one damaged and possibly sunk and a cruiser damaged or sunk would, if verified, cast a grave shadow over allied hopes in the second phase of the battle.

The only word from Washington was a statement by Secretary Hull that American officialdom was "much elated" over preliminary reports of the battle, but he did not specify whether he referred to last night's announcement of Monday's successes or to the second and greater phase of the engagement.

Information made public up until noon today certainly gave no basis for any conclusion as to the outcome.

The running battle apparently started Monday off the Solomon Islands and swept westward to the Coral sea, flaring across hundreds of miles of the South Pacific.

First reports indicated it far exceeded in scope and importance the great battle of the Java sea, two months ago, in which Japanese successes paved the way for the conquest of Java.

All Australia waited tensely for news to be flashed on the outcome, realizing that the fate of the commonwealth may hinge on allied victory or defeat.

Of Crucial Importance

Australia's Prime Minister John Curtin declared gravely that the action was of crucial importance to the whole conduct of the war

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Force in Right Place and Rightly Used May Be Necessary in Combating Evils

Text: Matthew 21:12-22

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

Our lesson contains a brief passage of Scripture that, in recent years, at least, has been the occasion of more controversy than any other. It is the story of Jesus casting out the money-changers and the people who were buying and selling in the temple. The teaching that we should love our enemies, that we should turn the other cheek—when we have been smitten on the one, and that we should not resist evil but overcome evil with good, has been interpreted by some to mean that under no circumstances should the Christian resort to force. Specifically, it is a plea of the conscientious objector, who refuses to give military service to the state even to defend his country.

Against this absolutist view of the teaching of Jesus, that does not take into account relative circumstances or conditions, others cite this incident with the evidence that Jesus, on one occasion at least, used force and did not regard His teaching about overcoming evil with good to be interpreted to the disregard of reason and common sense. Those who take the view that the Christian is not justified in using force under any circumstances try to explain away the incident by claiming that what Jesus manifested was really moral indignation, and one interpreter claims that the so-called "whip of small cords" was one that Jesus wore from the rushes with which the temple floor was strewn, and that it was a symbol of His moral authority rather than an actual weapon of physical offense.

But such an interpretation hardly is in accord with the picture we have in our lesson of an indignant Master overturning the money-changers' tables and upsetting the chairs of those who sold the doves. There was at least a show of force, though one may well believe that Jesus overawed them with the intensity of His moral indignation. One would have supposed that those whom He attacked might have ganged up against Him, and might easily have proven stronger physically than He, so that one should not minimize the moral authority of Jesus and the power of one conscientious, aroused man to put to flight a whole group of profiteers and cowards. But the incident displays one aspect of the mild and gentle Jesus that is significant and that has relation to our conduct and life today. Force can only accomplish so much, and the world ought to have learned by now that, even in war, real victory depends upon a great deal more than physical conquest.

But force in its place and rightly used may also be necessary. The prejudice that affects men is bad or worse than the greed and willingness to exploit religion for profit. From the instance of Jesus' expelling of the money-changers, we turn to the picture of His healing the lame and the blind in the temple. But the official representatives of religion were outraged by this exercise of authority by one who was not of their group, and we are told that they were moved with indignation. To what depths of degradation can a false use of religion bring people when they can become indignant over the healing of their afflicted fellowmen simply because the healing has not been done under their authority!

The instance of the withering of the unfruitful fig tree is more difficult. Almost all the miracles of Jesus were on the side of healing, health-giving, and more abundant life, and this fact suggests that the withering of the tree was to enforce a parable regarding the uselessness of the tree, or the life, that is untruthful and that does not fulfill the purpose that God intended. The incident must have enforced that teaching very strongly upon the minds of those who were present.

The pastor will be speaking in both of the preaching services next Sunday. The message in the morning will be an introduction to a series of messages on the book of I Timothy. In the evening the sermon will be on the theme, "Evangelism That We Need a Revival".

The mid-week prayer meeting is held each Thursday evening at 7:30 in the Tabernacle.

KINGDOM EVANGELICAL CHURCH

H. V. Summers, pastor

Morning worship, Rev. Robert Roederer, guest preacher, 9:30 a. m.

Church school, Frank Floto, superintendent, 10:30 a. m.

We will recognize and honor all mothers in our worship service this Sunday morning. We welcome them all with their families.

We, too, welcome to the Kingdom pulpit, for the second preaching service held in the church since December 7, the Rev. Robert Roederer who will be our guest preacher. Rev. Roederer is now a student in the Evangelical Seminary in Naperville, having served, however, previously the Brownstown Evangelical church of Brownstown, Illinois. Rev. Roederer is an accomplished tenor soloist and he will sing for us in the morning worship service.

All members and friends of the Kingdom church are urged to be present for the morning worship service. New developments have arisen that demand the prayerful attention of each member of the church. These developments will be presented in the morning service.

Sunshine Duo

W. Johnson and J. Gustafson, who compose the "Duo," plan to work among the boys and girls of Dixon next week. They do not preach. They present the message through chalk talks, object lessons, and memory work.

Pastor T. DeBoer said, "I had to date these men up over a year ago in order to have their services." He went on to say, "We preach too much to the older folk and forget that the children also need the Gospel message. There are very few in this country who can bring this message to boys and girls as well as the 'Sunshine Duo'."

So do not miss hearing and seeing them from May 11 through 17 at 7:30 p. m. A free gift to everyone on Monday night. The public is cordially invited.

Sale of Rubber-Tired Trucks is Prohibited

Washington, May 8—(AP)—The War Production Board has prohibited use of rubber tires on hand trucks except for "most essential" purposes.

Effective immediately, the order bars delivery of rubber tired hand trucks or tires for such trucks except on specific authorization of WPB.

Exceptions are granted where the use of tires is necessary to prevent explosion hazards and to avoid accidents in the handling of explosives, and damage in transporting delicate machinery or delicate instruments.

OLD DOBBIN BACK

Boston, May 8—(AP)—Old Dobbin came back into the newspaper business in Boston today.

The Boston Record-American put 10 horses and wagons into their delivery system to conserve on gasoline and tires and still publish more than one edition a day, as ordered in Washington.

Officials of the two Hearst papers said they expected to have 40 horses at work by the end of the week.

CHICAGOANS' PICTURES OF CORONATION ARE SHOWN FOR FOREIGN TRAVEL CLUB GROUP

A celluloid trip to the Coronation in England, recorded by the movie camera of Mr. and Mrs. James Flett of Chicago, was a fascinating program offering for members of the Foreign Travel club last evening at the Loveland Community House. Showing of the pictures was arranged by Mrs. Eustace Shaw, who was unable to be present last evening because of illness, and who met the Fletts aboard the Manhattan, en route to the Coronation.

Leaving New York harbor, the club members saw pictures aboard ship, ocean views, unloading of freight and passengers at Cobh and Plymouth by means of tenders; pastoral scenes in Cockington valley; a cathedral, coffee house, and a country funeral at Exeter; Old George Hotel, and a cathedral at Salisbury; the great abbey at Romely; the home of King Arthur and Knights of the Round Table at Winchester; the Druid temples at Stonehenge; the old Roman baths at Bath; England's most beautiful cathedral, at Wells; Shrewsbury; the home and burial place of Eli Yale, founder of Yale university, at Wrexham.

Through Wales, the pictures took the audience to the river Dee; Mt. Snowden, highest mountain in Wales; home of the first Prince of Wales at Caernarvon; Conway castle; the home of Gladstone at Hawarden; Chester, decorated for the coronation, the famous Old King's Head Inn, and the start of the Kendal off hunt. In the English lake district, the club members saw glimpses of Dove cottage, the home of Wordsworth, and Grasmere cemetery, where Wordsworth and Coleridge are buried. Scotland scenes included Gretna Green, old Toll bar, a marriage room, a blacksmith shop; Holyrood castle, home of Mary, Queen of Scots, ruins of an abbey, a photograph of Bobby Burns' home and his Masonic lodge, the Heart in Stone, which prompted Scott to write "The Heart of Midlothian", and the home of the Calvinist, John Knox.

Pictures of London turned the pages of history back to May 12, 1857, and the Coronation festivities, with colorful decorations, a parade, Colonial troops, bands, beautiful horses, uniforms, the famous Black Horse troop, the Queen mother, and the princesses, and the king and queen in their golden chariot. Also flashing across the silver screen were the Tower of London and London Bridge; St. Paul's cathedral; Fleet street; the National Art Gallery; Trafalgar Square; Buckingham Palace; Houses of Parliament; Big Ben; a cathedral at Canterbury; Leeds castle; Stoke Poges, where Grey's Elegy was written, the ancestral home of William Penn; Windsor castle and gardens; Warwick castle; Stratford-on-Avon; Ann Hathaway's cottage; Sulgrave Manor, ancestral home of George Washington; Oxford.

The remainder of the itinerary included Parisian scenes of the Arc de Triomphe, Champs Elysee, Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Les Invalides, Palais de Justice, Napoleon's tomb, Pantheon, the Madeleine, Cluny Gardens, book stalls on the Seine, Notre Dame, the Opera, the Louvre, Folies Bergere, the bird market; the palace and its interior at Versailles; the home of Napoleon and Josephine at Malmaison; Little Trianon, country home of Marie Antoinette; Barbizon, home of the painters, Millet and Rousseau; Fontainebleau, home of Napoleon; back to London, Waterloo station, Southampton, and arrival in New York.

Miss Anna Gelsenheimer, who also attended the Coronation, added her personal impressions of the event. Ben T. Shaw operated the projector.

MRS. MONDLOCK ENTERTAINS

Miss Beverly Sitter, whose marriage to C. J. Smith of Dixon is to take place later in the month, was honored at a kitchen shower given Wednesday evening by her fiancée's mother, Mrs. Paul Mondlock. Tables were formed for games of bunco as the evening's pastime.

A cake, ornamented with the miniature bride couple that had decorated Mrs. Mondlock's wedding cake, was served with ice cream wedding bells. Corsages of blue and white flowers were favors. Guests numbered 20.

GUEST NIGHT

Mrs. E. E. Barrowman, worthy matron of Dorothy chapter, O. E. S., was worthy matron, and Mr. Barrowman, served as worthy patron, at last evening's Guest Night meeting of Salome chapter in Rochelle.

Dixon Wa-Tan-Yans Vote Approval of War Bond Purchase

Dixon delegates who will attend the eighteenth annual convention of Wa-Tan-Ye chapters in Dubuque, Iowa, May 17-19, were instructed to approve the purchase of a $500 War bond by the national organization, when business and professional women of the local chapter met last evening at the Hotel Nachusa for dinner and discussion of business.

Three or more members of the Dixon chapter expect to attend the three-day sessions, which will be held at the Hotel Julien. Miss Bernice Clark of Estherville, Iowa, national president, will preside.

Sweet-scented lilies of the valley and violets in pink May baskets were favors for the chapter members last evening. Tulips were arranged in a center bouquet. Miss Elizabeth Durkes, Miss Martha Meppen, and Miss Mary Lugar were co-hostesses.

Miss Retta Jean Keithley, the chapter president, conducted the business meeting. Afterward, Mrs. A. T. Ogren, entertained with two readings, "My Club Meeting," and "Mothers Are Like That."

In behalf of the chapter members, Miss Alice Meppen presented a Wa-Tan-Ye pin to Mrs. Harry Miller, who expects to leave in June for California to join Mr. Miller. A. H. Lancaster spoke briefly in behalf of Dixon's war bond campaign.

With organization of an additional course in standard first aid training by J. R. Palmer, first aid chairman for the Lee county chapter of the American Red Cross, total enrollment for instruction in Dixon nears 450. Several ten-week courses for beginners, as well as supplementary five-week classes for advanced training have already been completed, with Mr. Palmer, his assistant, V. E. Hopper, and Sgt. D. J. Barrett, Dr. A. F. Moore, Russell Gentry, and Dr. J. L. Tavenner as instructors.

Several newcomers, brought together in Dixon by the Green River Ordnance plant, are enrolling in the classes, and four states are represented in the above picture. Left to right, those in the photograph are: Mrs. W. T. Slaughter, who resided in Austin, Tex., before coming to Dixon; Mr. Palmer; Mrs. Tyler, whose husband is now with the Military Police at Fort Sheridan; Mrs. W. M. Buvens, formerly of Houston, Tex.; James R. McMahon and Denton Tennant of Dixon, Mrs. George C. Leonard, formerly of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Harry J. Smith, until recently of Bloomington, Ind.

Final registrations for the new class will be accepted Monday evening at the Community House. Instruction will be given from 7:15 to 9:15 o'clock every Monday evening.

Sales Training Course Is Ended

A. H. Lancaster and B. J. Frazer spoke before several of the closing sessions of the special Victory Sales Training course conducted at the Dixon high school during the last two weeks. In addition Victor Eichler, N. H. Kaiserman, E. E. Barrowman and R. W. Bogue spoke at different sessions of Ted Case's classes on "What Merchants Expect of the New Salesperson." Mr. Case discussed "Pointers for Job Hunters" and announced the details regarding the induction of high school and adult members into the service of some of the local stores which are most in need of immediate help. For the benefit of all interested retailers a summary of the results will be made available shortly through the office of A. H. Lancaster, superintendent of schools. He announced that Mr. Case has received a call from the Evanston Chamber of Commerce and public schools to start early Monday morning. So he will be unable to speak before the Tuesday morning meeting of members of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce on his plan for a special community style show conducted under the joint auspices of the retailers and the school executive.

A Thought for Today

Better is the poor that walketh in his uprightness, than he that is perverse in his ways, though he be rich.—Proverbs 28:6.

Content with poverty, my soul I arm;
and virtue, though in rags, will keep me
warm.—Dryden.

Let's Not Get Hysterical

Being already on record in favor of more hoop-la in this war, we suggest now that the United States take care to avoid hysteria.

Hoop-la, for our purposes, is the expression of a surge of patriotic emotion. Hysteria is intolerance, witch-baiting, seeing spies and saboteurs under every bed, accusing everybody who disagrees
with us of being fifth- or sixth-columnists.

Fortunately, there hasn't been much evidence of hysteria yet. But already there are hysterical attacks upon some individuals and organizations which
—however mistaken—are sincere in their love for America.

The monograph Divide and Conquer, put out by the Office of Facts and Figures, is a skeleton textbook on propaganda methods used by Hitler and Goebbels. Divide and Conquer warns the American people of certain specific approaches by which the axis is trying to soften us up.

Properly applied, the information in Divide and Conquer is invaluable. But like any analysis of propaganda, it treads a boundary line so faintly
marked that the hysterical should not venture upon it.

The MacLeish monograph summarizes 15 lies which, unquestionably, axis propaganda is trying to put across over here. Most of the points are sound.
But some require reservations. And when these latter are used by one man against another, or one organization against another, we may well weigh carefully the animus that may be present.

For example, Divide and Conquer lists as a Hitler propaganda line the lie that "the cost of the war will bankrupt the nation." Does this mean that everybody who ventures to suggest economy is a Hitler stooge? We hope not, for we intend to demand economy wherever it will not hamper the war effort.

"Bolshevism will sweep over Europe," Goebbels wants us to believe. Does this mean that we can not criticize those Communists who even now are strengthening their positions in anticipation of postwar activities? We hope not. We're for full military collaboration with anti-Hitler Russia, and for rigid control over Stalinist activities in this country.

"Our leaders are incompetent," Hitler argues.
Does this mean we should not criticize those who are incompetent? We hope not. Even our government can not claim 100 per cent perfection in its personnel.

And finally, there is the German contention that
"American democracy will be lost during the war."
Inevitably we shall have to surrender privileges we had come to regard as rights. We do that willingly, as an evil infinitely preferable to the alternative of weakening the anti-axis effort.

But—are we foreclosed from warning against unnecessary attempts of egotistical individuals to grab for powers which are anti-democratic? We hope not. We shall fight such grabs to the limit.

Let's be realistic. Let's be aggressive. Let's be suspicious of possible sixth columnists. But let's keep our heads. Let's not get hysterical.

Mr. Addes Misunderstands

George F. Addes' complaint, that the President's program will not enable labor's pay envelope to catch up with higher living costs, misses the whole point of Mr. Roosevelt's speech on inflationary curbs.

The idea—which millions of workers seem to appreciate better than the United Automobile Workers' secretary-treasurer—is that our national standard of living must come down. Labor, like all consumers, will find less in the stores to buy. Without major adjustments, there still will be more money than goods—so much more that Uncle Sam
is going to raise taxes just to get the filthy lucre
out of our possession.

Nazi Narcotic

No wonder the German people are bewildered
at the salt tears which Adolf Hitler wept into his toothbrush mustache. They haven't had opportunity to witness, like us, the wonders of Goeb-bel's propaganda.

The sad story which Der Fuehrer told the world
can't fool anybody who has followed the Hitler psychology in action. He fooled the French into considering the Maginot Line impregnable, and then destroyed an unprepared country. He has tried to lull us into somnolence, so we would relax our preparation in mistaken belief that Nazism was ready to fall to pieces of its own weight.

We aren't having any of that narcotic. We'll increase our military effort until Hitlerism is crushed.

We Protect France

Officially, the State Department must recognize the Laval government unless some particularly virulent act makes Vichy an active ally of the Nazis. Therefore we must continue to receive and reply gravely to such communications as the protest against our sending troops to protect New Caledonia
against the Japs.

Unofficially, American public opinion declines to recognize Laval as spokesman for France. So long as Quislings are forced upon France by German arms, we shall feel free to protect her against the treachery of recreant Frenchmen.

Presto, Change

Manpower Mobilizer McNutt says we shall need 10,500,000 more war workers plus 2,000,000 more recruits to the armed forces this year. In February, there were 4,000,000 unemployed in the United States.

The problem is to get 12,500,000 for the war out of 4,000,000 available, without major overtime and
without knocking the spots out of civilian production. Try and do it.

One nice thing about spring—it always says it
with flowers.

CRAFTY BALDY

CHAPTER XXI

"It's like this," Nigel had found out all he could from Baldy
before calling a meeting. "She wanted a chance. Baldy thought she was at least as good as average from what he saw last night
and that there was a possibility
she might be better. She wanted a break and he's spotted a job in the chorus line of some dump in New York."

"Did he tell you the name?"
"No. Some cheap place, probably on the East Side."

Fay was thoughtful. "Baldy knows every joint in town, the gods as well as the dumps, but I don't see how he could get her anything as easily as that unless it is a hole in the wall. I'll find out about it."

Michael turned to her with a slow smile. "He's after your blood too. Maybe Baldy isn't bad on the surface, but underneath he's just plain parasite."

"You read my thoughts," muttered Myra. Her face was gloomy.
"I knew I was taking a risk when I brought her out of the cottonwool, but who'd have thought she could find trouble up here?"

"Wait till Danny hears about this," said Michael with a rueful smile. "He'll go after Baldy with a gun."

"And he'll blame me," said
Myra. "Danny is the father of the Mack family," she announced to the others. "Noted for his impulsiveness rather than his forethought when it comes to disciplinary action on his family."

"What shall we do?" said Nigel.
"Simple enough," said Michael.
"Spike his guns. Stop him and we stop her. But why shouldn't she have her chance?"

"The point is," said Nigel, "we ought to solve this thing so that nobody is hurt—pleasant feelings
all round and all that kind of thing."

Michael grinned at Nigel. "You
and I could fix Baldy." "What about Peggy?" "She'll have to lump it," said Myra. "Why do I always land in other people's troubles? They chase me even when I'm trying to get a vacation."

"Can't be helped," said Michael.
"Any suggestions for a plan?"

IN the house Baldy wiped the perspiration from his brow. It gave him a sense of power and fulfillment to be working over an act again, even if it was with the greenest of green kids. The idea was glimmering in his brain that through Peggy he could hold on to Fay. How or why he did not as yet know, but since they all were up here together they must be linked some way—maybe relatives—and if he was going to get Fay over this run-out spell he would have to play every card in his bag of tricks.

"That's swell, kid," he said at last. "In that line-up that Benny's
god you'll stick out like green
grass in a bunch of dried hay.
He'll have to pull you out in your own act or fire you, and that's your funeral. Come on, let's go over that again."

Then Marie came in and Peggy paused. "Have you seen any of the others, Marie?" she asked.
Marie said that she thought she had seen them all going into the rockery.

Peggy stopped. A warning signal flashed in her brain. At home, whenever the family gathered in conference it meant trouble for someone.

"Wait for me, Baldy," she said,
and slipped out of the room,
through the kitchen and out of the back of the house.

PEGGY made her way cautiously
to the back of the rockery
which was screened from the house by bushes. Here she looked and listened. She ran back to the house a little later and grabbed
a surprised Baldy by the arm.

"Quick, Baldy, let's get out of here into the woods. There's a plot on foot to stop you getting Fay back."

Baldy had begun to acquire a grudging admiration for Peggy's shrewdness and felt that if she didn't start using it too much on him, he might be able to use it
on his own advantage.

"I know," she said. "We'll go to the island! They won't be able to see us there and they won't think of looking there."

A quarter of an hour later, Peggy tied up the blue canoe on the farther side of the island and led Baldy to a shaded rock where he could sit down and smoke one of his long cigars in peace. Then she told him what she had overheard. True to her own nature
she only told him the part that applied to Fay, that they were conspiring to cheat him of his legitimate prey. She did not mention that they were apparently preventing Peggy from going to New York. But Baldy was no fool
when it came to cunning, and he read between the lines. He gathered that there was probably more to the conference than Peggy had confided and he began to figure that if he could use Peggy as a bargaining point he might be able to persuade Fay to change
her mind—on condition that he cancel his offer to Peggy. It was up to him, therefore, to add fuel
to the fire of Peggy's enthusiasm
for a chance in New York.

He led her on, let her speak,
encouraged her with a question
here and there, and before long
had a fair picture of the situation.

Briefly, it was that they were
all against him—not personally,
but as an influence; that at all costs, Peggy was not going to New York and that he must be kept away from plaguing Fay until such time as she left. In other words, he was to be strung along and ditched.

Baldy rolled his cigar from one side of his mouth to the other and laughed to himself. If they could put on an act he was pretty sure that he could put on a better one. They were a nice bunch of kids, but when it came to fooling a man like Baldy Erien, they were up against something not included in their nursery rhymes.

"That's fine, sweetheart," he said to Peggy, when he had found out all he needed to know. "What we need now is a plan. You want to swim. O.K. You have your swim, and I'll do some thinking."

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, May 7.—On the brink of gas rationing, the Ickes
petroleum coordinator's headquarters has initiated a complete censorship of figures which would show how much rationing
is justified.

As far back as January 1, the Ickes office shut off usual weekly regional figures by the bureau
of Mines of its own interior department.

But now it has requested the American Petroleum Institute to abandon its weekly statistics, such as published in this column April 27, showing gas stocks on the eastern seaboard only threetwentieths below last year for the week ending April 11. That is the last weekly figure you will get.
API has acceded to the request.

Neither the army nor navy requested such censorship. The armed forces obviously do not consider the figures military information. Nor has action been suggested by Censor Price.

The Ickes office says it decided itself that Hitler might get some comfort out of knowing how much gas is on hand in the east or elsewhere.
It might have added that the coordinator's office might get some discomfort from publishing the figures after rationing goes into effect.

Thus only such generalized
totals of oil reserves—not broken down as to regions or types—is likely to be available hereafter, and all arguments as to how much rationing is justified must cease.

The Ickes office will merely certify to Defense Transportation Director Joseph Eastman hereafter the amount of fuel it considers available for consumption and Eastman will tell Leon Henderson
how to ration it out—and no one will be in a position to say them
nay.

The rationing system is so complex in itself, it will certainly cause premature gray hair
among the school teachers who will handle it as they are handling sugar. Five types of cards will be issued.

Every motorist who has a registration certificate will get an
"A" card allowing 7 units for the emergency period of six weeks between May 15 and July 1. How much each unit will amount to in gallons will be determined May 10. If a unit is to be only three gallons, as some say, an "A" card
holder would get only 3½ gallons
a week.

"B" cards will, like vitamins,
have several classifications.
"B-1" will get 11 units, "B-2," 15
and "B-3," 19. You can get a "B-1" card if you can prove you need your car to go to and from your work or to work in your work and cannot otherwise get around. The distance will determine whether you will be "B-1," "B-2" or "B-3."

The fifth card will be "X"—unlimited supply to doctors, nurses, ambulances, etc. Commercial vehicles, like buses or delivery
trucks will not need a card and will get all they want.

This means the "A" cardholders
are only going to get what is left after the commercials and the
"X" and "B" boys get theirs. The government does not guarantee
any to an "A" cardholder, as Henderson has officially pointed out.

The school teachers will act as judges and jury in each case. Their instructions are to be liberal in accepting motorists' claims, but it might be well for you to bring along an aspirin in case the lady has had a trying day in the classroom.

After July 1, when a permanent plan will go into effect, the government will guarantee you
gas. Until then, also, the fling motorist proprietor is required
to turn in any receipts and therefore can give you as much gas as he wants if he likes you. The only way he is limited is that he will be able to get 50 per cent as much gas as he normally received.

The regulations also say he can give you any amount if you drive
up and show you are engaged in
"an acute emergency" involving rescue work of similar services.
But after July 1, the proprietor
will have to collect coupons for the amount of gas he sells you
and a more orderly administration is in prospect. That permanent program could not be started now
because the books have not yet been printed.

This program pushes Joseph B.
Eastman right up front as the factotum of all transportation.
Few people realize the extent to which Roosevelt shared the cigar of Henderson and the wings
of Ickes in his executive order
giving Eastman broad transportation authority.

It became evident only when War Production Board followed up Wednesday, with an order allowing Eastman to determine all transportation policies. He will run the wheels of the country,
rail, bus, motor and even screw propeller.

His reputation for calm judgment and non-political influence
surpasses that of most other government officials.

Government Urged to Provide Storage Space for Crops

Washington, May 8.—(AP)— Secretary Wickard was urged today by Representative Robertson (R-ND) to take early action toward overcoming what Robertson termed a "critical shortage" of storage facilities for the 1942
wheat crop.

Declaring that the department of agriculture must not view the question as "the farmer's problem", Robertson suggested that agricultural and war production
officials act together to provide stockpiles of necessary building
materials in strategic areas for construction of additional facilities.

"It would indeed be a tragic commentary on the efficiency of our war effort", Robertson wrote Wickard, "if we were to lose any major part of the 1942 wheat crop because of inadequate storage and transportation facilities."

He said the individual farmer
was not in a position to take the risk involved in building additional storage space and should not be asked to pay for facilities
in excess of his normal needs.

Explaining that North Dakota
was the largest producer of spring
wheat in the nation, Robertson
said he was particularly concerned with a report that there were 103,000,000 bushels of wheat in storage in farm and country elevators last April 1. He said this was more than the average crop harvested the past few years and only about 15 to 20 per cent of terminal storage space remained available for new crops.

CHARLES ROBERT BALL
(Contributed)

Charles Robert Ball was born in Dixon, Oct. 3, 1929 and passed away at the Katherine Shaw Be-thea hospital, April 30, 1942. He is survived by his parents, Robert
A. and Ruth F. (Marshall) Ball,
a brother, Leslie Dean, his maternal grandfather, Rev. W. W.
Marshall of Virden, Ill., his paternal grandfather, Fred E. Ball of Dixon, and uncles, Ensign W.
Leslie Marshall, Annapolis, Md.,
Dean H. Ball, Grand Detour; and
Rev. Fred Ball of Harmon, Ill.

Charles was a member of the Future Leaders class of the Sunday school of the First Baptist church.

Funeral services were conducted from the First Baptist church in this city, Sunday, May 3. Miss Lucille Miller sang, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and a special number, "My Buddy" was played by Mrs. Hughes, this being a favorite selection of Charles which he played on the piano. Rev. J. H.
Hughes gave the impressive funeral sermon. Just preceding the interment service an airplane from the Dixon Municipal Airport flew over and strewn flowers over his final resting place. The casket bearers were: Reinhart Schnell, Raymond Young, Donald Steder,
Junior Ramsey, Teddy Mason and Jack McLean. Honorary casket
attendants were: Bobby Ryan,
Bobby Dogwiler, J. D. Barton,
Billy Brenner, Donald McLean,
Eddie Ruth and Eddie Enichen.

Friends and relatives attending
the funeral from a distance were:
Ensign and Mrs. Leslie Marshall, Annapolis, Md., Rev. W. W.
Marshall, Virden, Ill., Attorney
Kenneth L. Teele, Cambridge,
Ill., Dr. and Mrs. William E. Lowe
and son, Moline, Ill., Mrs. O. M.
Hitch and daughter, Princeton;
Miss Barbara Gillespie, Oelwein,

Native of Clinton, Ia. New Commander of Illinois Troops

Brig. Gen. Mahin Takes Over Post Held By
Maj. Gen. Lawton

Camp Forrest, Tenn., May 8.— (AP)—A native of Iowa, described as a "hard driving man of action" today was the new boss of Illinois' own 33rd division.

The new commander is Brig.
Gen. Frank C. Mahin, a veteran of the first World War who has a record of 32 years of service in the regular army.

Tanned by winds and sun from Panama to the Philippines and scarred by battles at St. Michel and the Meuse-Argonne, the 54-
year-old veteran succeeded Maj.
Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, recently named chief of the new Central Defense Command of the Upper Mississippi Valley.

General Mahin, who came here
from his post as assistant commander of the 45th division, Camp
Barkley, Texas, is a native of Clinton, Iowa, and the son of Frank W. Mahin, retired U. S. consular official and former owner of the Clinton Herald.

Joined Army in 1910
He received his early education in England, where as a youth he was a member of an English territorial regiment. A year after graduation, from Harvard University in 1909, he joined the regular army, having served in the New York National Guard.

He received his first commission
in 1912 and six years later after considerable front line combat duty in France became a major.

After the war, Gen. Mahin resumed his formal military studies
and was a "distinguished graduate" of the Command and General Staff School in 1925. Four years later he was graduated from the war college and for the following
seven years was with the inspector general department.

He received command of the Third infantry in 1937 and in August, 1940, organized the 60th infantry, serving as its commander
until last October when he was named a brigadier general.

He is married and has three married daughters.

HEARD 'N' SEEN

By JOHNNY MITCHELL

WHAT! NO BOTTOM? ... just a casual observer of American League baseball progress has come forward with a timely suggestion in behalf of the Chicago White Sox ... sympathizing with Chi-Sox boss Jimmy Dykes and his struggling band ... this fan suggested that the Sox fans organize and make application to the proper federal agency for a priority on reinforcing steel and concrete ... the purpose is to reinforce the cellar of the American League standings in order to prevent the White Sox from falling completely out of the league ...

SEASON OPENS ... the fishing season at Lake Mendota, Mendota, Ill., will officially open Sunday of this week ... unlike other seasons, minnows will be allowed as bait ... the limit of catch ... five crappies and 10 bullheads ... no throwlines or setlines are allowed ... if any of the rules are found violated, fishing on the lake will immediately close for the season ... all fishermen are requested not to throw their extra minnows into the lake when through fishing ... great care and pains have been taken in order to stock this lake and it is just now coming into its own; so all sportsmen are asked to show the deepest regard in usage of the lake ... motor-boats are definitely out-and-cannot be used on the lake and there will be no fishing from 9 p. m. in the evening until daylight ...

BOWLING MATCH ... the Highways Dixon bowling team toured over to Amboy yesterday and matched pines with the Olivers' team of that city in the Lally bowling alleys ... the Dixon team rolled way out in front as they won by the score of 2744 to 2346 ... and without any handicap the Dixon lads really turned in some nifty team counts with games of 911, 925 and 908 ... not one of the Dixon boys were under the 500 bracket with individual series ... the scoring was as follows ... Dixon ... R. Schroeder 197, 180 and 189 for 566 ... R. Long 168, 163, and 179 for 510 ... B. Austin 166, 156 and 191 for 513 ... U. Hackett rang up the high individual game and high series for the match when he rolled a game of 233 and added with 187 and 194 obtained the high series of 614 ... and J. Miller 193, 193 and 155 for a 541 ... Olivers of Amboy ... J. Carlson 199, 189 and 116 for 504 ... Louie Jahn 120, 206 and 171 for 497 ... Finch 143, 116 and 131 for 392 ... Riley 125, 145 and 219 for 509 ... and E. Carlson 187, 159 and 120 for 466 ...

TRACK FAVORITE ... the Princeton Tigers' powerful and well-balanced track team is the favorite to win the North Central Conference meet this season ... and earlier in the week they further proved their prowess by winning a three-way meet over Mendota and Ottawa ... Princeton literally romped off with everything in the meet except the cinder track and the jumping standards ... they rolled up a total of 671-3 points ... Mendota got 351-3 ... and Ottawa came in with 301-3 ...

LETTER-WINNERS ... basketball awards for the past season were given out to the DeKalb varsity and frosh squads ... the Barbs winning varsity awards were ... Bob Cook ... Jim Lincoln ... Bob Courtney ... Gene Davis ... Harold and Howard Littlejohn ... Leonard McKain ... Bob Mosher ... Runar Wedberg ... Bob Oberlin ... Carl Wisdom ... Joe Ebbsen ... and Dick Fitzgerald ... the Barb basketball schedule for next season is already completed and includes 20 games with entries in two different tournaments.

TRAIL MARKERS ... the final plans and arrangements are now being completed by the committees in charge for the annual spring trail ride sponsored by the Northern Illinois Horse-Show Association which is slated for Sunday, May 24, out of Oregon ... Saturday Clarence Myers and Art Keithahn will be guiding their mounts through the woods and thickets up around the Blackhawk area in order to have the course properly marked and laid out for the trail ride.

NATURE COMMUNERS ... it's been rather sour atmosphere lately for any picnic but when the change started yesterday there were a bunch of picnic-enthusiasts right on their toes to take advantage of the warmer climate ... and to get in a little baseball practice even though the girls were along ... but the ladies fitted to the occasion properly and displayed a few "hefty swats" ... the "kiddies" on the affair were ... Mr. and Mrs. Galen Myers ... Jack Phalen and Mildred Delhotal ... Gene Baker and Ruth Foster ... and Jim Graham and Ruth Oester ...

DUKES BOW TO STERLING ... the Sterling Frosh Soph track team defeated the Dukes Frosh Soph team in a dual meet Wednesday afternoon in the Sterling Stadium ... Sterling won by the count of 80 to 33 ... Sterling won 10 firsts while the younger Dukes were getting 3 ... the following boys won points for the Dukes ... Shoemaker, third in the high hurdles ... Osowski, third in the century run ... Meinke, first in the shot put ... Alexander, second in the shot ... Osowski, second in the 400 run ... Rizner, third in the low hurdles ... Rizner, second in the pole vault ... Osowski, first in the 220 yard dash ... Meinke, first in the discuss ... Cramer and Mienke, tie for second in the high jump ... Cramer, second in the broad jump ... Meinke was the Dukes leading star as he won two firsts and a tie for second ... Osowski was the Dukes' versatile cog as he won one first and placed in several other events ...

BOWLING ANNOUNCEMENT ... now that the leagues have finally completed their respective schedules and all the champs have been decided ... we are planning on publishing the complete records of all bowlers in each league which competed at the Dixon Recreation Alleys ... this record list will appear in tomorrow's issue of The Telegraph.

INFORMATION DEPARTMENT ... if any of you White Sox fans would care to know who was responsible for that anonymous idea at the top of today's hodge-podge ... we'd be very glad to oblige ... but if things keep going as the past indicates we're going to give up the "ghost" and entirely agree with the above excerpt ...

EXCHANGES UNIFORMS ... Highland Park, Ill., May 8—(AP)—Chief of Police Rex Andrews, 33, turned in his resignation today and henceforth will wear the uniform of a first lieutenant on duty at a Texas army camp.

Major League Baseball Starts War Relief Campaign Today

Brooklyn Dodgers Start War Charity Program in Twilight Game at Ebbets Field; Even Players and Umps Pay

Pirates and Giants Split Double-Header in Only Big League Game Yesterday; New York Giants Face Brooklyn Bums This Evening

(By Associated Press)

Baseball will go to bat for war relief today with the first of 16 regularly scheduled Major League games from which Army and Navy assistance funds will get all proceeds.

Appropriately this affair will be staged by the Brooklyn Dodgers, whose President L. S. (Larry) MacPhail first campaigned for the big leagues to adopt such a program, and will be unique in that it will be a twilight game and that all persons who enter Ebbets Field, including the players and umpires, will buy tickets.

Even the admission of the peanut and hotdog vendors will be paid for by the Stevens concessionaires and tickets for soldiers and sailors will be bought by various organizations.

Brooklyn's foe for this dramatic encounter, starting at 3:45 p. m. (CWT) will be the New York Giants and later the same teams will play a companion piece at the Polo Grounds. The series was planned by MacPhail and President Horace Stoneham of the Giants last month and became the basis for the program evolved by Commissioner Kene-saw M. Landis for all other major league clubs.

The present installment in the National League's hottest rivalry comes during a sort of intermission in the intersectional skirmishing of both leagues.

The first siege between the eastern and western clubs came to an end yesterday with in-clement weather erasing all games except a doubleheader between the Giants and the Pittsburgh Pirates. After some intramural battling during the week-end, the eastern clubs of the American League will move into the west next week and the western clubs of the senior circuit will attempt a raid on the east.

In the only action yesterday the Pirates captured a 2-1 eleven inning decision in the first half of the bargain bill at Pittsburgh and the Giants came back to bag the nightcap, 6-2.

Paw Paw State Bank Dividend Authorized

Arthur C. Lueder, state auditor of public accounts, announced today that he has authorized the State Bank of Paw Paw, Paw Paw, to pay a dividend of 15 percent amounting to $21,369.57 on waived deposits.

Following the banking moratorium of March 1933, the depositors of this bank waived 50 percent of their deposits, thus enabling the bank to resume business. The total waived amounted to $142,489.47.

This is the sixth payment to the depositors on the amount waived and brings the total amount returned to 95 percent of the original waiver.

CLAMMER DROWNS

Metropolis, Ill., May 8—(AP)—Fishermen today dragged the Ohio river in search of the body of Earl Phillips, 23, a mussel picker who drowned late yesterday when his boat capsized. Charlie Johnson, Metropolis, Phillips' companion, swam to shore and told Sheriff Charles H. Barfield the accident resulted when the boat was caught in the wash of a passing river steamer.

OFFICIALS PUZZLED

Bellefonte, Ill., May 8—(AP)—St. Clair county officials are somewhat puzzled over the results of the sugar rationing registration. It brought out 27,157 more sugar eaters than the entire population of the county as given by the 1940 census.

Total population of the county was listed as 166,899. A total of 194,056 persons registered for sugar.

Heavyweight Champ Joe Louis Gives the War a Name

Without Knowing Louis Gives the War Proper Name

It was in April that President Roosevelt asked for a name for the war. But the war had already been named. On March 10, in Madison Square Garden in New York, Joe Louis said about the war, "We are going to win because we are on God's side." He called it God's war.

Carl Byoir, New York public relations counsel and co-chairman of the Committee on Public Relations during the first World War, is the only man who realized that Joe had named the war. He wrote a poem about it.

—Courtesy of Colliers, The National Weekly.

By Carl Byoir

Joe, you have named the war. I don't think you knew. That you were naming the war. But you named it. You named it when you said, "We are going to win because we are on God's side." You were right, Joe. And you have named the war. This is God's War.

Maybe you read in the newspapers That the President asked the reporters To name the war. Our President is a very great man, Joe. But he does not know very much about whom to ask To name wars. Reporters, Joe, are men who think with their heads. No one could name this war out of his head. It had to be named out of the heart and out of the soul, And out of some instinct that reaches back through thousands and thousands of years; Back through all the struggle of mankind To establish the rights That we are fighting to keep now. But you were right, Joe. You named the war. This is God's War.

Maybe you are the first human being in five thousand years Who is not too conceited in naming a war. For in all the wars that men have fought in the past, Men on both sides said, "God is on our side." I think you are the only man in all history Who over said, "We are on God's side."

Of course I know, Joe. That you were not thinking about naming a war. You just put into words something you felt. Way down inside of you. So maybe it was your great grandfather who named the war. I imagine he was born a free man Joe. And then someone brought him to America. And made a slave out of him. And maybe he dreamed the long Of being free again. Because he knew the bitterness And the agony of slavery. He knew the value of freedom And wanted it again. And maybe he was there, Joe, When Abraham Lincoln wrote the Emancipation Proclamation And said that this really was a free country. And made it come true. Where all men and black men were all free. That here it didn't make any difference About a man's race or creed or color.

That this was really a country Where all men were free. Maybe those words were stamped On your great grandfather's heart And maybe they were burned in to his soul. And maybe he came to love America. And to cherish its freedoms. More than some people who just inherited them. And so, maybe, you just felt what he felt. And so you named the war. This is God's War.

This is not the first time That someone like Hitler Thought he was bigger than God. Or that someone like Hirohito Thought he was God.

The whole history of mankind Has been a history of struggle Against men like this. And that's why we can be sure That we are on God's side. Because in the long run the people Who are on God's side Have always won. The rights of free men. Were not won all at once. God has been fighting these wars As long as there have been men to set free.

Through all the dark centuries A lot of people believed That freedom for mankind was not God's plan. But they were wrong, Joe. Men have come out of the darkness. Men who believed in God; And after while, because they believed in God, They knew they could win back their freedom. But always, Joe, it was a struggle. Winning it and losing it, and winning it back again.

Everyone knows that here in America We had to fight to be free; And we had to fight to stay free; And we are fighting now to stay free. What too many of us forgot, Joe, Was just what you have reminded us of. That freedom is part of God's plan for mankind. So, if we want to be free men now,

British Bred Pony Is Dark-Horse of Preakness Field

Baltimore, May 8—(AP)—Meet the "lease-lend" colt Domingo, dark horse of the Preakness field. English bred, America-backed Domingo in the hope of moviemann Louis B. Mayer in tomorrow's 52nd running of Maryland's richest race, to be run for a winner's purse of $60,000 or more before an expected crowd of 50,000.

As the names of ten probable Preakness starters were dropped into the entry box at Pimlico this morning, Domingo was taking it easy with typical British nonchalance, touched off by a bit of Hollywood showmanship.

He's a playful fellow, this Domingo, a handsomely built bay colt which didn't come to the races until a few weeks ago and was a maiden until last Monday. Domingo hasn't yet met any horses of the class of Shut Out, Devil Diver, Alsab, Valdina Orphan, Sun Again and others he'll be up against in the Preakness but experts say his breeding is proof he'll stick it out.

The husky bay colt, which looks a lot like Alfred Vanderbilt's Impound, is a three-year-old son of Colombo and Oronsay by Sansovino. Brought along slowly by Trainer Grace Philpot, Domingo has raced only four times and has won once and been second once. His victory came Monday at Jamaica when he beat a lowly field of maidens by seven lengths while going a mile and one-sixteenth in 1:44 1-5.

Badgers and Iowa Out To Decide Command of Big Ten Baseball Loop

Chicago, May 8—(AP)—Iowa and Wisconsin, lush with pitching and batting power, tangled at Madison today in the first of their two-game baseball series to determine the Big Ten leadership. In other week end series, Minnesota (one win and three losses) went to Chicago (0-6); Purdue (2-4) to Indiana (2-6); Illinois (5-3) to Ohio State (3-1) and Northwestern (3-3) to Michigan (3-1).

The Hawkeyes' seven wins in eight games came on the heels of superb pitching by Dick Hein. He has won four straight to top the conference's hurlers. Wisconsin countered with pitchers Ed Scheiwe and Sophomore Walt Lautenbach, who took a victory apiece from Illinois last week as the Badgers began their conference season.

Best hitter in the circuit is Ohio State's Art Maley who has clipped off a .750 in two games. Let us pray for faith And wisdom and strength To fight through to glorious victory On God's side. In God's War.

Indianapolis Gal Bowling Team Favored to Win Int. Tournament

Milwaukee, May 8—(AP)—The White Rock girls bowling team, Indianapolis, will be the central attraction tonight as regular competition begins in the 25th annual Women's International bowling tournament. The girls posted a 1086 during the recent league season for the high single game in the nation. Member Bertha Urbanick recently uncooked a 300 game.

Teams from Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, and Wisconsin were scheduled to roll tonight.

Sox Cheer-Up; Pitcher Lee's Injury on Mend

Phoenix, Ariz., May 8—(AP)—Here's about the best news voluble Jimmy Dykes could hope for on the eighth anniversary of his appointment as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

The ailing left arm of Thornton Lee, his hurling ace of 1941, is on the mend. Lee doesn't make any predictions that he will repeat last year's performance of 22 victories, which more than any other single factor, helped keep the White Sox in the first division of the American League.

"But," says his No. 1 fan, Mrs. Lee, "Thornton writes me that since an examination by Mayo clinic physicians, he's been undergoing treatments which already have improved that arm 100 percent."

The doctors found that in addition to torn rib muscles, Lee was suffering from bronchitis and a sinus infection, she reported. The muscles were pulled loose when he cracked three ribs last season. He paid little attention to the injury then.

Lee plans to rejoin the team in St. Louis tomorrow, Mrs. Lee said.

Vacation Bible School
Representatives of the three Sunday schools of this community met at the Baptist church on Monday morning and set the date for the opening of the community Bible school for Monday morning, May 18th. It will be held for ten week-day mornings, 9-12, Monday through Friday.

Rev. James H. Hagerty was elected dean of the school and the following committees were appointed: Mr. Nangle, Mrs. Brewer and Mrs. Carl Rosenkrans for securing teachers housing committee to be John Mortimer, Gertie Smith and Earl Tyerman. The transportation committee was not completed, but they are to work out an co-operative family effort in getting the rural children into the school.

Preliminary registration will begin in every Sunday school class this coming Sunday. There will be classes for pre-school and including high school pupils.
Every parent should see that their children should attend. The solemn duty of a parent to give every child a deep faith in God, is just as important as a public school education. There are far too many in the oncoming generation who are receiving dangerous knowledge, the more dangerous when little moral sense is used in that knowledge may be used in being given along beside it. Let's have one of the largest vacation Bible schools in the community's history.

11 a. m. An age-old poem has said: "If you want to be distressed—look within, if you want to be defeated, look back; if you want to be delivered, look to Christ; if you want to be delighted and look up." The truth of those words is still real today. In communion with God one finds not only personal joy, but also the renewed sense of deliverance and salvation. Come to church Sunday, look up, gain the Heavenly mission, then rise up and obey.

7:30 p. m. Attend the union service in commemoration of Rural Life Sunday. Approximately one-half million members of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. are members of rural churches. Out of these rural churches come much of the personnel force for the leadership of our great denomination. Some of the best work that has been done and is being done is to be farms in the rural church. Come to the evening union service.

Lower Exemptions in Income Tax Is Morgenthau Wish

Washington, May 8—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau told the house ways and means committee Thursday "the time has now come" to lower personal exemptions under the individual income tax to $600 for single persons, $1,200 for married couples and $300 for each dependent.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the committee made public a letter in which Morgenthau said the reductions would produce about $1,100,000,000 of which $100,000,000 would come from 6,900,000 new taxpayers.

The letter said that this new increase would be over and above the $3,200,000,000 he asked congress to raise from individuals as part of an overall $7,600,000 tax program. Present exemptions are $750 for single persons, $1,500 for married couples and $400 for dependents.

Last year the seven million individuals paid income taxes of $5,000,000,000. Under any of various plans that have been presented, they would pay much more hereafter but some committee-men have said there was a strong possibility that some of Morgenthau's steep surtax rate increase would be pared down.

Reception Not Indicated
Doughton told newspapermen that Morgenthau's letter was presented to the committee but did not indicate what reception it received.

Morgenthau took occasion in the letter to emphasize again the need of expanding the social security program and of increasing taxes for that purpose by about $2,000,000,000 a year and expressed the hope that the committee would proceed as soon as possible after completing a tax bill to consider that question.

In presenting the administration's program to the committee March 3, Morgenthau said a further lowering of the personal exemptions would yield "a relative insignificant amount of revenue from the earners of very low incomes."

He said then, however, that if he believed that expenditures of that group added materially to the danger of inflation, he would not hesitate to recommend lower exemptions "in spite of the small amount of revenue that would be produced."

Shipments of Grain on Great Lakes is Stopped

Washington, May 8—(AP)—The Office of Defense Transportation announced Thursday that all grain shipments over the Great Lakes had been prohibited from any port or point, except by special permit.

In a sweeping order, designed to assure cargo space to move needed supplies of iron ore, ODT took control, effective May 15, over 340 Great Lakes vessels, with a gross carrying capacity of nearly 3,000,000 tons, suited to ore cargo as well as a number of other vessels used for transporting scrap, coal and grain.

Further, ODT Director Joseph B. Eastman is to determine the ore-carrying capabilities of each ship.

To provide a check on ships outside the ore trade, the order provides that no ship of any kind, without a general or special permit from ODT, shall carry grain from any port, point, or place on Lake Michigan or from Fort William or Port Arthur, Ontario, or from any other Canadian point on the Great Lakes.

"Diversion of grain tonnage to the railroad will be necessary, in order to assure maximum carrying capacity for iron ore," Eastman declared.

The rigid control over Great Lakes shipping was attributed to prospects of an unprecedented movement of ore tonnage—estimated at nearly 90,000,000 tons for the season.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

A dozen patriotic Americans, each buying one $18.75 U. S. War Bond will provide $225 for the cost of one parachute. We need one for every man in every plane, thousands of them. And we need other thousands for training and use of paratroops.

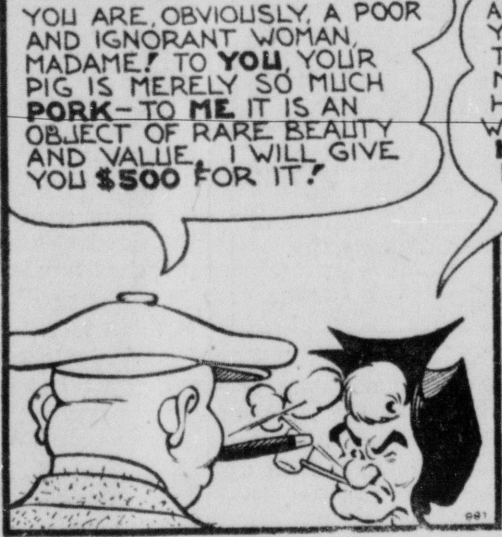

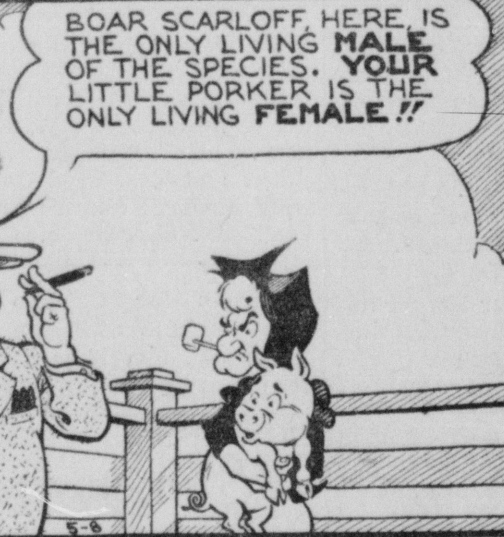

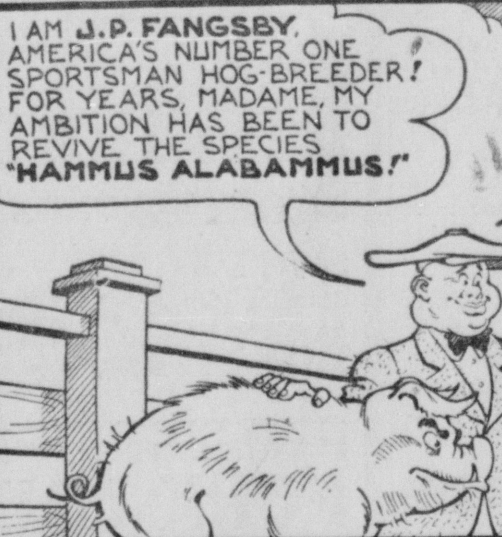

Silk formerly used in milady's silk hose and other finery now goes into parachutes and for every parachute manufactured, 20 women will have to forego the purchase of a silk dress each. But they save money to buy War Bonds every pay day.

Havana Girl's Slogan Wins Her Commendation

Springfield, May 8—"Scraps put the ax to the axis," prize winning salvage for victory campaign slogan, today won Mary Campbell, Havana school girl, the commendation of Governor Dwight H. Green. In a letter congratulating her on having her slogan chosen from among 185 entries, the governor told Miss Campbell:

"Every good American, I am sure, agrees with the sentiment expressed by your slogan and I feel certain it will inspire your community to continue the very good work they have started in salvaging essential materials needed for our war efforts.

The contest was held by the local salvage committee and the winning slogan was used in Havana's drive. Fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils of Havana schools participated in the contest.

Our Boarding House With Major Hoople Out Our Way By Williams

Lower Exemptions in Income Tax Is Morgenthau Wish

Washington, May 8—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau told the house ways and means committee Thursday "the time has now come" to lower personal exemptions under the individual income tax to $600 for single persons, $1,200 for married couples and $300 for each dependent.

Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the committee made public a letter in which Morgenthau said the reductions would produce about $1,100,000,000 of which $100,000,000 would come from 6,900,000 new taxpayers.

The letter said that this new increase would be over and above the $3,200,000,000 he asked congress to raise from individuals as part of an overall $7,600,000 tax program. Present exemptions are $750 for single persons, $1,500 for married couples and $400 for dependents.

Last year the seven million individuals paid income taxes of $5,000,000,000. Under any of various plans that have been presented, they would pay much more hereafter but some committee members have said there was a strong possibility that some of Morgenthau's steep surtax rate increase would be pared down.

Doughton told newspapermen that Morgenthau's letter was presented to the committee but did not indicate what reception it received.

Morgenthau took occasion in the letter to emphasize again the need of expanding the social security program and of increasing taxes for that purpose by about $2,000,000,000 a year and expressed the hope that the committee would proceed as soon as possible after completing a tax bill to consider that question.

In presenting the administration's program to the committee March 3, Morgenthau said a further lowering of the personal exemptions would yield "a relative insignificant amount of revenue from the earners of very low incomes."

He said then, however, that if he believed that expenditures of that group added materially to the danger of inflation, he would not hesitate to recommend lower exemptions "in spite of the small amount of revenue that would be produced."

Shipments of Grain on Great Lakes is Stopped

Washington, May 8—(AP)—The Office of Defense Transportation announced Thursday that all grain shipments over the Great Lakes had been prohibited from any port or point, except by special permit.

In a sweeping order, designed to assure cargo space to move needed supplies of iron ore, ODT took control, effective May 15, over 340 Great Lakes vessels, with a gross carrying capacity of nearly 3,000,000 tons, suited to ore cargo as well as a number of other vessels used for transporting scrap, coal and grain.

Further, ODT Director Joseph B. Eastman is to determine the ore-carrying capabilities of each ship.

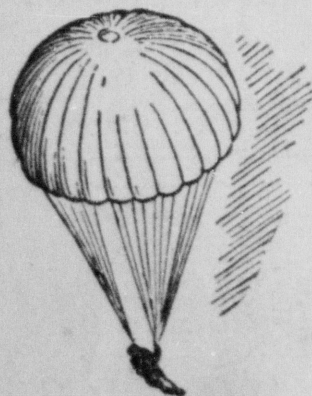

To provide a check on ships outside the ore trade, the order provides that no ship of any kind, without a general or special permit from ODT, shall carry grain from any port, point, or place on Lake Michigan or from Fort William or Port Arthur, Ontario, or from any other Canadian point on the Great Lakes.

"Diversion of grain tonnage to the railroad will be necessary, in order to assure maximum carrying capacity for iron ore," Eastman declared.

The rigid control over Great Lakes shipping was attributed to prospects of an unprecedented movement of ore tonnage—estimated at nearly 90,000,000 tons for the season.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

A dozen patriotic Americans, each buying one $18.75 U. S. War Bond will provide $225 for the cost of one parachute. We need one for every man in every plane, thousands of them. And we need other thousands for training and use of paratroops.

Silk formerly used in military's silk hose and other finery now goes into parachutes and for every parachute manufactured, 20 women will have to forego the purchase of a silk dress each. But they save money to buy War Bonds every pay day.

To Graduate

Frances and Margaret Maier, Walter Metzger, Betty Lou Chaon,

IT'S YOUR MOVE!!

There are a lot of us with one fault in common—we take too much for granted. We say, "We can't be beaten, we're too big!" Well, France sat behind her "invincible" Maginot line, and LOOK AT HER NOW—a truck garden for the Gestapo—an arsenal for Adolph, albeit an unwilling one! Look and LEARN! We have had lesson after lesson to learn—the hard way. Our adversaries are tough. Our enemies are aggressive and powerful. Saying "boo" at them doesn't mean a thing. An ocean is just a puddle today. Millions and millions of dollars worth of munitions are needed NOW, NOT NEXT FALL! While there is yet time, buy Bonds!

Talk has been going around to the effect that, "Why buy Bonds? They'll tax US to get the money to pay the interest anyway, so we'll just be paying ourselves."

It is not the intention of this column to deny this, nor to explain how this possible taxation will be levied. But this much can be pointed out:

Suppose Mr. A. buys Bonds, while Mr. B. does not. Let us suppose, further, that A continues buying for two years and B still shrugs his shoulders. Then, perhaps some heavy taxation begins in order to obtain the interest money. A and B will be TAXED ALIKE—REGARDLESS of previous Bond purchases. But HERE the similarity ends! A has the accumulated ORIGINAL investment, PLUS 2.9% interest compounded semi-annually! For every $75.00 invested, he can have available the $75.00 plus $25.00, or $100.00, compared with WHAT for Mister B? Yes, we may be taxed to pay our own interest—but right now is the time to make SURE it's OURSELVES we are paying—NOT SOMEBODY ELSE!

Committees Meet

The local organization of the various committees for the U. S. War Savings Bond drive for the May 11th campaign was completed at a meeting held in the C. O. F. club rooms on Thursday evening.

There are twenty-one school districts in the territory under the leadership of Supervisor John S. Archer, of Compton and each one of the districts was represented by the directors of that district. Sixty persons were present and the enthusiasm displayed by every one causes Mr. Archer to feel that his territory, Brooklyn, Viola and east one-half of Lee Center townships, will go over the top in splendid style.

Township officials were also in attendance at the meeting and each promised to assist the school directors in any way possible. The same is also true of Prof. Raymond Walter of Compton high school and of Prof. John Gable of the West Brooklyn high school.

Mr. Archer presided at the meeting and gave a very splendid talk on the need of our government in connection with the war financing. Prof. John Gable acted as secretary. Oliver L. Gehant, who is chairman for Lee county, explained the part the county is expected to play in the war financing and stated that he knew local people too well to feel uneasy over the cooperation they would give in supporting the government, and backing up their boys who are carrying the real burdens of war. Let's prove the chairman is not mistaken and demonstrate on May 11 that we really appreciate our country and its free institutions. When you sign a pledge card just picture that one of the local soldiers is pleading with you to help sustain their effort with your dollars. We cannot let them down.

Chicago's Population Increased Since Census Sugar Register Reveals

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, May 8—Chicago's population has increased 2.4 per cent since the 1940 federal census, final tabulation of the four-day sugar registration showed today.
Michael F. Mulcahy, OPA director for the Chicago metropolitan area, said rationing figures showed 80,264 more persons applied for rationing books than were enumerated in the census, raising Chicago's population to 3,477,072.

He attributed the increase to expanded industrial activities, influx of people from coastal areas because of bombing danger, and transfer of bureaus from Washington.

POPULAR GREETING

The most widely used greeting among mankind is nose rubbing. More people use it than the combined devotees of handshaking and kissing.
